

"That is the story. Do you think there is any way of making them believe it?" (Plato, 380 BC)

FIRST CHIMP GRAD

By Clark Kent
Bugle Staff Writer

Wins Scholarship to Yale

North Bergen, UPI.

Charlie X, the first intelligent chimp to graduate from the highly vaunted "No Chimp Left Behind" program, has passed the entrance exams to Yale University.

"I hope to study law," says Charlie, "and to give something back to the community."

To help defray costs, ChimpAid Live will contribute toward most of Charlie's day to day expenses. He will live on campus and work part time at

Charlie X
CitiPhoto

[see "New Chimp on Campus" A15]

ZOOT SUIT PRESIDENT

"Completely Out to Lunch", says Doctor

By Ed Coonce
Managing Editor

New York, UPI. Millions of Americans, confused and fearful, stayed home Thursday, watching the tube anxiously, when it finally became apparent that the leader of the free world was indeed, one sandwich short of a picnic.

Miles Fornikraft, the President's faith-based health counselor, wrung his hands in despair. "I swear, I've tried and tried and nothing seems to work. He won't listen to anybody, just insists that this is what America wants."

When Fornikraft was asked if sterner measures were forthcoming, Secret Service agents stopped the interview and escorted this reporter to a side alley and pushed me out the door.

[see "We're Doomed !" A3]

Last Song and Dance

AP Photo

World's Largest Guitar in Town You Should Hear It!

By Marston Tidwell
Bugle Staff Writer

local hermit and historian Herbert Lonetooth, the street corner where the Comets got their start.

Playing for dollar bills and beer, the climb to the top of the music heap was "an alternate universe of few meals or money, begging for shelter, and hitchhiking everywhere they went," says Lonetooth in his book "Guitar Goliaths".

Making its concert debut this weekend, Hornsferndersonn's favorite instrument, the giant triangular 7 string affectionately nicknamed 'Dude' has a unique sound which few have heard.

At giantstrings.com, the Comets' site

[see "Beautiful Noise" A15]

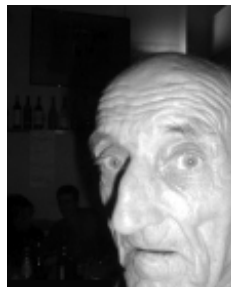

Gustaf Tunes His Guitar

Citizen Press Photo

North Bergen, UPI. Citizens walking past the corner of 10th and Dutch Elm Street in Pottstown Thursday were treated to an impromptu concert by the famous Gustaf Hornsferndersonn and the Comets.

In town for Saturday's ChimpAid Live concert, this was, according to Quaintsville

Herbert Lonetooth

INSIDE

LOCAL

Bugle Merger Imminent

The Bugle has purchased majority ownership of the Hee Haw Gazette and will merge staff. A7

SPORTS

Raiders Scrimmage at HS

"We're back to basics", says Shell. "Unless we improve quickly, my job is in jeopardy." Tie game marks scrimmage with Fighting Meerkats. C1

ENTERTAINMENT

Madonna Controversy

The Kristian Klans of Amerika urge a boycott of Madonna's concert, call it blasphemy. D3

BUSINESS

Jettison Shipping Sinks

Newcomer shipping giant offers so many freebies and concessions, they cut their own throat. A21